HISTORIC St. Paul's Church was filled with a large and fashionable audience last evening at 8:30 o'clock to witness the marriage of Miss May Hartley Carmichael, daughter of the late Rev. Hartley Carmichael, former rector of St. Paul's and Robert Archer Hobson, son of the late Colonel Edwin L. Hobson, of this city. The church was decorated in palms and Anemone lilies and the cathedral candles and vases of the altar. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard Rathbone Graham, uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Oscar De Wolfe Randolph, of Chicago. A vested choir singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" to the music written by Dr. Carmichael, the bride's father, preceded the bride party to the altar, and "Like a Father" was played by Professor Reinhardt during the ceremony, and the choir sang the recessional.

The bride's gown was of exquisite white satin, caught with pearls and brocade and trimmed in crystal and old lace. Her veil of imported lace fell from a lace cap and a bandeau of old pearls that had been worn by many beautiful women at previous weddings and was held with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, and was given away by Dr. Randolph Wellford.

Mrs. George Haydock, of Cincinnati, was her sister's maid of honor, and wore a gown of pale pink satin, trimmed with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. The bridesmaids, Misses Beatrice Grizzell Carmichael, Fanny Hobson, Mante Russell, of New York, and Elsie Anderson, of Louisiana county, Va., wore lovely white lace frocks, with tunics of accented matted blue silk. They carried big bouquets of white lilies and wore silver bands in their hair, finished with a pearl drop on one side. Dr. Edwin L. Hobson was his brother's best man, and the groomsmen included Landon Wellford, Macdonald Wellford, Aubin Boulware, Lewis Boshier, De Crafford Hobson and Dorsey Anderson.

The reception followed the ceremony, which was given at the Jefferson Hotel by Mrs. Richard Rathbone Graham, of Wickford, R. I., included only the bride party and the immediate families of the bride and groom. Decorations were in pink and white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobson will make their home in Richmond on their return from their wedding trip. A number of guests from a distance came to Richmond for the ceremony, and a great deal of entertaining was done for the bride and her attendants previous to the wedding last night.

Home Wedding.
A pretty wedding took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, 1109 West Franklin Street, when Miss Julia D. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson, became the bride of Abraham Witsky, of Philadelphia, Dr. E. N. Calisch performing the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of white crepe meteor, trimmed in real lace and pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her tulle veil was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Lillian Eichel, wore a gown of Helen pink chiffon, draped over white satin, and carried a basket of lilies of the valley and Killarney roses. Mrs. H. L. Campbell was matron of honor and wore white marquisette made over white satin, with touches of pale blue and pink about the bodice. She also carried a basket of Killarney roses and lilies. Zule Witsky, of Philadelphia, acted as the groom's best man.

Watkins—Doyle.
A very pretty, but quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday, April 20, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle, in Adelphi, Va., when their daughter, Miss Sallie Eileen Doyle, became the bride of George Lafayette Watkins. The ceremony was celebrated at high noon by the Rev. C. E. Johnson, in the presence of the nearest relatives and most intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a handsome gown of grey cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins left for a trip to Washington and Niagara Falls, via Richmond, on their return early in May they will make their home in Emporia, Va.

To Unveil Tablet.
Mrs. Lizzie Cary Daniel presided at the meeting of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society that was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The committee appointed to arrange for a bronze tablet to be placed in the museum to Mrs. Joseph Bryan was heard, and it was decided to unveil the tablet during the big confederacy which will be held in this city in November. The tablet will be of bronze, 20 by 30 inches, and will be made by the Gorham Company, of Providence, R. I. The design selected yesterday has an ivy leaf border and the Confederate seal and an appropriate inscription within.

It will be placed in the hall of the museum. Mrs. Bryan having been the first and only president of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, her term of office extending over a period of some twenty years or more. The committee appointed to arrange for the tablet includes Miss Maudie P. Harris, chairman; Mrs. Edward Valentine and Mrs. J. Allison Hodges.

Two books as gifts to the museum were reported "For Truth and Freedom," by Armistead T. Gordon, of Staunton, and "Memoirs of Service With John Edgar Lee," by S. N. W. W. Baker, of Hallsboro, Va. George L. Christian was appointed as delegate for the museum at the Confederate reunion to be held next month in Little Rock, Ark., and any member of the society who may be able to attend was appointed alternate.

An invitation was received and accepted from the Oakwood Memorial Association to attend their memorial services on May 10. The officers of the society have been appointed, to attend these services. Mrs. Miller Hughes and Mrs. E. F. Folger were received by the society as new members.

The bridesmaids were beautiful frocks of white over green satin with pearl trimmings. They were Misses Nellie Powell, of Lynchburg; Nan Logan, of Salem; Elizabeth Bolling, of Baltimore; Elizabeth Bolling, of Baltimore; Margaret Braxton, of Knoxville, and Margaret Ribble, of Wytheville.

The groomsmen included John Riser, of Baltimore; George Miles, of Baltimore; Henry Dew, Stuart Campbell, Allen Brown and Alfred Moore, of Wytheville.

The bride, gowned in crepe meteor, with an exquisite garland of rose point lilies, entered the church with her father, who gave her away. Miss Lelia Harrison Dew was her sister's maid of honor, and was attired in yellow satin, draped with cream chiffon. A handsome reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Thomas H. Dew.

Among the out-of-town visitors were Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Weaver, of Newport News; Mrs. Alexander Stuart, of Abingdon; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Edmund, of Lynchburg; Margaret Bannister, of Lynchburg, and Mrs. J. R. K. Cowan, of Radford.

There were twelve indictments against Mr. Bishop and Mr. Davis, jointly, charging larceny. Counsel for Mr. Bishop to-day indicated that he would elect to be tried separately.

Damages Suit Set for Trial.
Judge Mullon today set May 9 for the trial of the case of Newsom's administrator against the Petersburg Telephone Company and the Virginia Railway and Power Company. The suit is for $10,000 damages for causing, as is alleged, the death last night of Robert Newsom, by coming in contact with a live wire.

Board of Public Safety.
The Common Council, at its adjourned meeting, held last night, unanimously adopted an ordinance creating a Board of Public Safety, to be composed of the Mayor, the City Engineer and the Chief of the Fire Department.

An ordinance creating the office of Building Inspector was also unanimously adopted. The salary of the office is fixed at $1,500 per annum, and the inspector is given authority over all buildings now standing or hereafter to be erected in the city. He is made Assistant Engineer of the city, will grant or revoke building permits and see to the safety of all buildings, walls, etc., and the ordinance requires that he "shall be a man of some technical knowledge of engineering." The inspector and the Board of Public Safety will work in unison, and the board will be the last court of resort in all complaints and appeals. The building code ordinance was referred for further consideration.

Disappeared From Home.
Edward Martin, a youth of seventeen years, ran away from his home in Dinwiddie county on Sunday, since which time nothing has been heard of him. His parents are very anxious about him. The young man was heard to say that he intended to go West, and is probably making his way in that direction. The boy's home is about seven miles from Petersburg.

Asking for Shorter Hours.
The journeymen painters of this city have joined in an agreement to ask for a shorter day's work, to begin on May 1. They ask for nine hours a day, with the same pay per day as now.
